Description

The General tab in View properties is empty if Publish plugin is installed, so it's not possible to set the view CRS, etc. The issue was detected in gvSIG-desktop-2.3.0-2436-testing-win-x86_64.zip (portable x86_64) where Publish is installed by default and replicated in a fresh install after installing the Publish plugin (see the log in attachment).

If I remove the org.gvsig.publish.app.mainplugin folder manually and restart gvSIG, the General tab works fine as usual.

Es un problema del tamaño de ventana. Aparece vacía, y si se maximiza se ve bien.

En el 2439 sigue apareciendo vacía y es necesario maximizarla.

Ok... The General tab is visible after r42909, but the height of the View properties window is very huge now! Is there another way to load the Publish forms and then resize the View properties window properly?
