Description

An error message:

"Formato no soportado"

raises when trying to make a quick impress. The impress is correctly done if the error dialog is closed

Also, the space reserved to write the window title isn't correct (this also happens in 1.11)

Bug reported by Vanesa Ross from Cartolab.

Quick impress command was launching an error due to the blank file path specified in the template for the picture. Now FFramePicture checks whether the path specified is truly a file or not, so if it isn't simply no more code is executed onto it and no image is loaded.
